FOUR MEN SEEN TO FALL.

Brooklyn, Jan. 21,-Violence and bloodshed constitute the record of the eighth day of the electric street car operatives strike. Three millMamen are in hospitals with broken heads, two having suffered at the hands of riotous men or women, while the third was the victim of his own carelessness, having fallen out of a second story window. A score or more of police contusions of the head and body, disa-

To what extent the strikers have suffered cannot be conjectured. If they escaped punishment, it was not the fault of the militiamen, who, in accordance with ants as a dense fog, which completely hid objects at thirty yards distance, would permit. The strike is not ended and order is not restored.

Seven thousand National guardsmen and 1,500 or 1,600 policemen have not to-day been strong enough to make the resumption of the street railway traffic in Brooklyn practicable. In fact, the gain over Saturday is scarcely perceptible. The calling out of the First brigade, composed of New York city regiments, has seemed rather to add to the tension than to bring a solution of the difficulties. The task of restoring peace the difficulties. The task of restoring peace and order along nearly 200 miles of street car line is a vast one. The new levy numbered not far from 4,000 men. They were moved across the great bridge early in the day. The various companies went by elevated trains, wherever it was possible, to the points where they had been ordered. Generally speaking, the greetings they met with on the streets were far from friendly. A Scatch rulet settled down on all the city. "tith on the streets were far from friendly. A Scotch mist settled down on all the city, increasing in density as the evening approached and added to the difficulties. A car started from the Ridgewood station of the Brooklyn Heights company a little after 5 o'clock, and was assailed with volleys of stones and bricks before it proceeded far. A private soldler was struck in the head with a stone and disabled. The officer in command ordered his men to shoot and two volleys were fired in the direction of the rioters, who, however, were obscured by the dense fog. Policemen also did some shooting at this point, with what effect is as uncertain as in the case of the militiamen. It is asserted by the militia officers that they only ordered the volley when the violence of the mob made it necessary.

On the fame line a car started out an hour after and was beset by rioters at Gates and Suyverant avenue. The police excerting it essayed to drive off the rioters and while doing so were fired upon from a house. Two policemen were wounded, one in the arm and the other in the hand. The other in command ordered his men to shoot and two vollers were fired toward the windows and house tops from which reliables had mostly been hurled. The solitors' aim was, however, rendered uncertain by the dense for.

The vicinity of the Rilgewood avenue stables this afternoon and evening was the scene of the most determined could the between the strikers and their sympathics are on one side and the troops and police on the other, that has yet taken place in the present disturbance here. When the Becomb hattalion of the Seventh regiment, consisting of Companies B, D and G, arrived at the Ridgewood street stables early the morning, everything was as quiet and orderly as any peace-leving citizen would desire. The Coionel Thinks He Would Make an Excellent United States Attorney in the Territory.

Washington, Jan. 21.—(Special.) Colonel W. A. Leilbetter, of Ardmore, arrived yesterday for the purpose of securing the appointment of United States attorney for the Southern district under the new court bill. While the bill has not been agreed upon, it is thought that it will stagger through in some way, and, should this happen, a place will be made for an attorney, provided Senator Vest is unable to change the house amendment making another the house amendment making another place for an attorney against the interest of Attorney Jackson. Colonel Leibetter has had some experience with the Texas officials running that country and believes that he can accommodate himself to their that he can accommodate himself to their peculiar gait and therefore he would like to have the appointment. There are some vague rumors about his having tee indorsement of Judge Stuart, who will preside over that court in the event of an official accelent, but this is not credited by some who recall that Vancey Lewis, of Ardmore, a former partner of Judge Stuart, is also an applicant for the place. It is believed that the judge, in this matter, will aim to keep all such things in the family, and hence it is very much doubted if Colonel Ledbetter has the indorsement fly, and hence it is very much doubted colonel Ledbetter has the indorsement has left entirely to the president and but came as not want to be in the scrimmuse. several Men in Jall for Killing Barrett Scott in Hott County, Neb.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 21.-A special to the See from O'Neill, Neb., says: Mose Eltott, Fred Haeris, Mert Roy and Mullihan were to-night arrested and juiled charged with mardering Barrett Scott. They are believed to be members of the yigilance believed to be members of the tgilance committee of farmers which is commonly charged with the taking off of Scott Other warrants are out, and the editor of an O'Neill paper left town sublenly, it is said, through rear of violence for attacking Scott editorially. It is reported one of the viciliantes has turned state's evidence. There are several facts that give color to this view, and it is not explicitly dealed. The searching parties had previously explored a considerable pertion of the river where the hely was found. They had dragged the bottom within four feet of the very spot, but without success. The successful posse went almost to the exact spot, and had hardly sank their grappling trops into the water before they brought up the quit with which the body had been wrapped. It is believed that Fell Akin and one or two others knew pretty nearly where to look for the hody before they left O'Noil, and that they have important facts in their possession which will appear in due time.
